

As a flight attendant, I feel that it would be unwise to allow cell phone usage on airplanes. It has not been proven that it does not interfere with aircraft, and terrorists could use those phones to coordinate a hijacking. Passengers can surely wait the length of their flights to talk, or use the air phone if it's an emergency.